Dear Mr. McDermott:

This is in response to Mr. Robert Garnier's recent letters to Admiral Turner and me inviting this Agency to submit a nomination for the 1976 Warner W. Stockberger Achievement Award.

While we appreciate the opportunity to honor an individual through this worthwhile program, we have decided not to submit a nomination this year. Please be assured of our continuing interest in the program and our desire to recommend a deserving candidate in the future.

Sincerely,

F. W. M. Janney

The Honorable Stansfield Turner
Director
The Central Intelligence Agency
Washington, D.C. 20505

My dear Admiral Turner:

The International Personnel Management Association will present the annual Warner W. Stockberger Achievement Award in October at IPMA's International Conference. The Award is given to a person in public or private life who has made an outstanding contribution toward the improvement of public personnel management at any level of government. The Award honors the late Dr. Warner W. Stockberger, a pioneer leader in Federal personnel administration and the first president of the Society for Personnel Administration.

The Awards Committee is now soliciting nominations for the 1976 Stockberger Achievement Award. With your close association with public affairs, government, and personnel administration, you are in a position to be aware of those individuals who are making substantial contributions to sound personnel management. The Stockberger Award Committee, therefore, invites you to nominate an outstanding individual who meets the criteria for this Award.

The enclosed nomination form sets forth the criteria and nomination procedure. The deadline for receipt of nominations is June 15, 1977. Thank you.

Sincerely,

Robert C. Garnier

region/chapter news •

Canadian

• The 1977 Canadian Region Conference, which is being held May 22-27, Edmonton Plaza Hotel, Edmonton, Alberta, features a program built around the theme, "The Responsible Public Servant."

Tom Gould, director of news services, CTV Network, Toronto, will deliver the keynote address. Other sessions will examine responsibility in labor relations, responsibility in bilingualism and biculturalism, the psychology of responsibility, and military-style responsibility.

There are also 20 breakfast discussion topics and concurrent sessions on EEO, the Anti Inflation Board, ombudsmanship, participation and involvement, and job analysis.

Neil A. Murray, senior classification and compensation officer, Employee Relations Division, Alberta Personnel Administration, is chairman of this year's conference.

• A two and one-half day workshop on the "Basics of Personnel Administration" was conducted by the region, May 4-6, 1977, in Halifax. The workshop, on the "nuts and bolts" of personnel administration, was designed for personnel clerks, personnel technicians, junior personnel assistants, and newly appointed personnel officers. It covered such topics as: recruitment, job specification and job evaluation, performance appraisal, labor relations, pay and benefits administration, and personnel procedures.

Central

Program arrangements for the 1977 Central Region Dakota Conference in Bismarck, North Dakota, May 22-25, have been set.

The conference title, "The New Basics," is reflective of the assimilation of elements of personnel administration which were thought to be new and foreign some short years ago and today have become very basic to the public personnel administrators working life.

Keynote speaker for the Conference is John W. Boyer, Jr., professor of industrial relations, University of Minnesota at Duluth, who will speak on the Conference title, "The New Basics."

Gerald Andrews, commissioner of administration, State of South Dakota, will head a panel on the "Freedom of Information vs. Right to Privacy" issue. Included on the panel are Allen Olson, attorney general, State of North Dakota; Gene Carr, North Dakota Newspaper Association; and Joe Stec, deputy regional director of the U.S. Civil Service Commission.

Other speakers on the program include R. Elliott Scearce, director of personnel, St. Louis, who will look "Backwards and Forward" at the business of public personnel administration; and Alice Kirby, assistant director, Illinois State Affirmative Action Office, will head a panel on "Selection and Affirmative Action/Report From IPMA Assessment Council."

Sam Baker, personnel administrator, City of Pontiac, Michigan, will head a panel discussion on the "Future of Labor Relations in the Public Service"; Jane Cole, deputy director of personnel, City of Chicago, will speak to a general session on "Proactive Personnel Reorganization" reflecting the experience in the City of Chicago; Bill Stipek, classification and pay administrator, City of Kansas City, will head a panel on "Grievance Procedure Technology"; and Jack Anderson, director, IPP Division, Civil Service Commission, will head a panel on "Measuring Productivity in Government."

Robert C. Garnier, president of IPMA, will address a general session on the topic of "Today's Public Servant Image, or, Could You Really Encourage Your Son or Daughter to Pursue Public Service as a Career." A panel on the "IPMA Reorganization Proposal" will be headed by Laurence Harkness, director of administration, University of Missouri Medical School at Kansas City. Thomas A. Tyler, director, IPMA ager, Detroit Regional Office, Michigan Department of Civil Service; and Robert Garnier will participate in the panel discussion.

Robert Roeder, Indiana State personnel director, will head a panel discussion on "Implementing and Maintaining Employee and Supervisory Training Programs." Douglas McInnis, associate director, Bureau of Environmental Personnel Programs, Civil Service Commission, will add a general session on "Merit Standard Review," currently being conducted by IPP. Chuck Reott, director of personnel, City of Madison, Wisconsin, will head a panel on "Classification Techniques;" and William Boys, Director of Personnel, State of Illinois, will head a panel on "Work Schedules—Flex Four Day Work Week, Job Share." Barbara Sundquist, director, Minnesota Merit System, will head a panel on "Modern Approaches to Fringe Benefits and Compensation."

Genesee Region

On Friday, March 4, 1977, a meeting was held in Rochester, N.Y., for the purpose of establishing and forming a chapter for the Rochester area. Members of the planning committee were: Reva Brozost, director of personnel, Town of Greece; Susan M. Bier, senior personnel technician, Monroe County Civil Service Commission; Richard B. Osterman, manager of personnel, Monroe County Civil Service Commission; Annette C. Wiesner, personnel technician, Monroe County Civil Service Commission; Arnold C. Osterman, director of manpower management, Rochester Psychiatric Center; Ronald Linzy, affirmative action director, City of Rochester; Donald Nachman, director of personnel, Monroe Community College; and Gregory Litz, associate director of employee relations, Greece Central School District.

Also present were: Joseph Napolitano of Maryland, president of the Eastern Region, IPMA; Arnold C. Osterman of New York City, past president of the Region and chapter liaison.
